Dear Customer,

General Data Protection Regulation GDPR

As you will be aware, there have been many legislation changes of late and as a company we are required to advise and notify you of the amendments made which affect our business relationships and verify our compliance with GDPR changes.

European union General Data protection regulation comes into effect on the 25th May 2018, which clarifies the protection of data logged by Hornsey Steels Ltd.

We collect and process information from all customers to Hornsey Steels Ltd. All our customers information and data are equally important to us regarding security and safety regarding the storage of the relevant information. Organisations and personal data is stored in a secure and confidential manner.

General Terms Of GDPR

The information gathered and stored consist of corporate and trading details relating to your business or personal purchases such as: Company name, registered office and correspondence addresses, registration and VAT numbers. Alongside collecting and processing bank and payment details (including trading & end user purchases).

Contact details are stored including telephone contact numbers and email addresses relevant to customer accounts.

All the above information falls under the GDPR personal data laws and we are legally obliged to inform you about how we gather, process and store this valuable data securely on our system including future information provided to Hornsey Steels Ltd.

All information held by Hornsey Steels Ltd is ONLY related for trading, general communication and marketing purposes to ensure you are informed and up-to-date from our business.

Your Rights?

Should you believe that any of your personal data is incorrect or incomplete in a non-secure manner, you have the right to request to see the information and storage method, to which Hornsey Steels Ltd will rectify or delete under your discretion. Please contact us Via 01547 530 419 or email info@hornseysteels.co.uk

Many Thanks,
